Mrs. W. E. Brock Talks of Opportunities for Business Women.

About twenty-five representative iness women and girls gathered at the weekly luncheon given by the Chattanooga Business Women's club at the Hotel Patt ¬ Wednesday, and at the Hotel Patt - Wednesday, and the hour was spent in a most cordial and appreciative way. A feature of the gathering was a talk by Mrs. W. T. Brock on "Opportunities for Business Women." Mrs. Brock said there was no finer body of women than hose standing on their own feet and naking their own way in the world, and that all honer and respect was lue them. As to how business women wild best serve and reach the plane ould best serve and reach the plane hat Jesus Christ intended for them said was to choose whom the o Him for the high plane "upon which we stand." "Think of the eathen," said the speaker, "who do not know Christ, and who throw way their babies, and to whom way their banies, and to wanter women are no more than animals."
"Never was there a time," she said, when the world needed Christ more han it does now." She then quoted rom the report of a commercial statstician who sends out regular resorts to the business world, who said: Nothing can save the economimy to solve the economic problem.

Says Nothing Out of Ordinary About Debt Now Existing.

Articles in the last issue of the Chat-tanooga Defender, a local negro publi-cation, dealing with race riots in vari-cus parts of the United States, have evoked much adverse criticism from both white and colored people in Chat-tanooga.

Among the articles reprinted in the Defender is one written by W. S. Scarbrough, president, of Wilberforce college, which deployes the fact that in the great world war the south was in the saudie at Washington. The writer charges that the south has made the most of its opportunity.

Leading colored citizens, realizing better than ever before since the Chicago riots, that the south is the negro's best friend, deplore the publication of such articles. Another article charging that Ku-Klux klans are being formed throughout the south with the apparent purpose of offering violence to the negro is just as widely condemned by both white and colored citizens. This charge is, of course, absolutely untrue. The articles, especially in view of the sensational manner in which they are handled, do not tend to promote the present ideal relations between the white and colored races in Chattanooga, leading colored citizens pointed out. Manassas, Va., Sent. 3.—The trial of W. C. Hall, a state prohibition inspector, on a charge of murder in connection with the killing of L. C. Hudson and R. C. Shackelford, alleged whisky runners, entered upon its second day with the prosecution yet to identify the assailant. Twelve witnesses had been examined, but the state had a number of others to be heard. Mrs. Alfred Bly, who lived close to the scene of the killing, testified that she saw five flashes and heard the reports of five shots. All of the shots were fired from a point outside the prohibition inspector's automobile, she testified. Her testimony was corroborated by her hus-hand and sister.

Biggers Held to Grand Jury On Charge of Manslaughter

Struck Scott Marcus While Driving Auto, Inflicting Fatal Injuries.

The case of W. E. Biggers, mayor of Ringgold, Ga., who some time ago was put under bond of $1,000 for injuries inflicted on a negro, Scott Marcus, as the result of an automobile accident near the Terminal station, was heard in the city court Wednes-day morning. The charges preferred against the defendant have been changed to manslaughter, as the negro has since died.

Biggers was driving a Buick car on Market street, near the Terminal station, when the accident occurred. Officer Gorman, who made the arrest, 182% Officer Gorman, who made the arress 8332 stated that the car was exceeding th speed limit, and that he signalled to the driver to slow down, which he immediately did. Several witnesses tostified that Marcus crossed the street and came out in front of a wagon with apparent disregard for his own safety, making a collision with the oncoming car absolutely uncentrifugal, $7.28; fine granusian.

COTTON DEVELOPS FIRM FAIR OVER THIS

New York, Sept. 3.—The cotton market opened steady today at an advance of 3 to 17 points on all months except May, which was 6 points lower, with December selling at 31.30c, owing to relatively steady cables and the firm opening of the stock market. Liverpool sold here, however, while there was also scattered selling for southern account, and prices eased off after the call, with December selling back to 31.10c, or 7 points net lower. There was a little trade buying and covering at this level, while general business was quiet, and prices held fairly steady foward the end of the first hour.

The weekly report of the weather WITH BUT LITTLE CHANGE High Pressure Area Extends ward the end of the first hour.

The weekly report of the weather bureau was considered favorable, but failed to inspire any selling of consequence in the absence of hedge pressure, and prices worked about 25 to 30 points net higher before the end of the morning, with December selling at 31,45c. A good part of the demand was attributed to covering by yesterday's sellers, and general business was quiet.

Prices turned easier during the afternoon under a renewal of local pressure, encouraged by reports that people who held consigned cotton abroad were finding it difficult to sell. December broke to 30.80c, with the general list ruling about 24 to 37 points net lower around 2 o'clock.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

New Orleans, Sept. 3.—A better Liverpool market than due caused a rise of 3 to 12 points around the opening in cotton today, but the hard spot immediately attracted selling orders, so that half an hour after the opening the most active months were a couple of points under yesterday's close.

Talk of extremely small ginning to the first of September increased the demand for long account and caused short covering. Late in the morning the trading months were 20 to 30 points over yesterday's close.

During the noon hour the market felt sudden pressure from the abort side and a quick break resulted, which carried prices to levels 32 to 38 points under the finals of yesterday.

OBITUARY

Nashvilla, Sept. 3.—(Special.)—Little interest seems to be manifested by the public here in tomorrow's election on a constitutional convention, and dispatches from over the state indicate a similar situation generally. Reports from two or three counties are to the effect that no election will be held in them. Reports from Jackson indicate that Madison county may give an affirmative majority for the proposition. Nashville, Sept. 3,-(Special.)jority for the proposition.
